The Love Affair of the Daughter of Lord Chief Justice Coleridge Brought Into Court.

The Baraged Lord Turns His Daughter Out of Doors—Rumors of a Fight Near Saltillo, Mex.

A SENSATION IN HIGH LIFE.

THE ADAMS-COLERIDGE LITEL SUIT. NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The Sun's special cable referring to the Coleridge libel suit says:

Lord Chief Justice Coleridge is placed in a most unenviable position before the public by Mr. Adams' suit. Adams seems sincere in his action and has thus far managed to create public sympathy. He attempted to make a strong point morally against the Coleridges. He showed that the lord chief justice's daughter was perfectly aware that he was a poor man and compelled to make his own way in the world. She had not been made the victim of any deception and had entered into their engagement with a full appreciation of the change in her circumstances which the marriage would entail. When she made her family acquainted with her intended marriage her father became furious and treated her with meanness and barbarity. When he found that this served to increase her determination, he instigated his son Bernard to engage in the effort to poison her mind against her betrothed. Bernard's efforts toward this end culminated in his composition of the letter to his sister, which forms the basis of the action. In his presentation of the case Adams said that Miss Coleridge was not shaken in her affection by her brother's efforts, and that the letter only excited her indignation. When her father found that she had delivered the letter to Adams he turned her out from the parental roof. Mr. Adams further showed that Miss Coleridge adhered to her engagement, and that she warmly supported him in his present action against her brother.

Toward the lord chief justice himself Mr. Adams was very bitter. He described him as a judge who would move heaven and earth to frustrate justice when it adversely affected himself. Lord Coleridge shows a disposition to make a vigorous resistance. His plea in defense is that the letter being a private communication from one member of the family to another warning her of his danger must be considered as a privileged communication and not actionable. Adams contends that the law concerning privileged communications must be confined to such communications as these which pass between lawyers and their clients. The judge in his ruling seems inclined to support the plea raised by the defense. The lord chief justice has been subpoenaed to appear Monday as a witness. Miss Mildred Coleridge, the heroine in the case, has also consented to appear.

A VERDICT IN FAVOR OF PLAINTIFF REVERSED.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—Action for libel brought by F. M. Adams, barrister, against Bernard Coleridge was resumed to-day. Mr. Adams continued his opening remarks. He said that he had much affection for Miss Coleridge, but that he had not thought of marrying her. Attorney-General James submitted that the plaintiff had no case and must be dismissed. The judge ruled that Bernard's letter was a privileged communication and Adams, in order to maintain his case, must prove express malice or dishonesty on the part of Bernard. He decided to leave the case to the jury, reserving to himself, however, the right to decide any action on the point of the law in case the verdict was not warranted by the evidence. Adams continued his statement and said that he and Miss Coleridge were now resolved to get married. The case was submitted to the jury, who, after some deliberation, brought in a verdict for the plaintiff of £3000. The judge overruled the verdict and gave the verdict for Coleridge with costs.

UPRISINGS IN MEXICO.

Special to the Gazette.

SALTILLO, Nov. 22.—Trouble is anticipated here between the Falcon and Cavalla parties. They are pressing men to serve as soldiers. There are rumors of a fight yesterday ten miles from here, but not yet confirmed. There are reports also of risings at other places.

GERMANY'S CONGO PROPOSALS.

COLOGNE, Nov. 22.—The Gazette publishes the text of Germany's proposals in regard to the Congo in the following manner:

"The delegates of fifteen states shall agree to the following declaration: 'In the region of the basin of the Congo and its tributaries there shall be perfect free trade for all nations. Completely free trade for all nations. Completely free trade for all nations. Completely free trade for all nations. The powers exercising sovereignty in the Congo regions are forbidden to exercise monopolies or favors of any kind. All the powers exercising sovereignty shall bind themselves to co-operate and promote the work of the missions and institutions which tend to the civilization of the natives.'

EGYPTIAN AFFAIRS.

CAIRO, Nov. 21.—A man who arrived here yesterday evening from Khartoum says that El Mahdi's position is eighteen hours' march from Khartoum. Disease is making great ravage among El Mahdi's followers. Fully one thousand men are dying daily. Sheikh Morgana, with a large force, has arrived at a point midway between Kossula and Berber to lend assistance to Gen. Gordon. Advice from Wady Hadda state that the British troops arriving there are departing for the frontier with noteworthy rapidity. The Essex and Cornwall regiments are now en route to Dongola. An advance beyond Dongola will be impossible for a month.

CABLE NOTES.

The distress among the English shipbuilding workmen is increasing. At the shipyards on the Tyne, Clyde and Mersey there is scarcely one fourth the possible working force and power in effective operation.

GAINESVILLE.

A Montague County Failure—Runaway Teams—County Officers Qualified.

Special to the Gazette.

GAINESVILLE, TEX., Nov. 22.—Yesterday the firm of McNabb & March of Burlington, Montague county, was closed out by attachments aggregating several thousand dollars. P. J. Willis & Bro. of Galveston had a claim for $5000 and Dodd, Brown & Co. of St. Louis $2100. Other firms, principally St. Louis houses, also levied attachments. The entire indebtedness of the firm is reported at $20,000; assets $12,000.

Yesterday evening while Mr. Rube Brown was out riding, his horses became frightened and unmanageable and started on a dead run. When he reached the street railway track on California street the buggy was upset, and Mr. Brown thrown out in the middle of the street. Parties standing near quickly ran to Mr. Brown, and picked him up in an apparently lifeless condition. Medical aid was summoned, and an examination proved that he was not seriously hurt, but only stunned. A rumor was circulated through the streets that he had been killed outright, and a large number of friends hurried to the hotel to ascertain the truth.

A wagon loaded with cotton was turned over in the street yesterday, when the team became frightened, broke loose and ran away. Two men were on the wagon at the time, one of whom was badly hurt and the other slightly. One of the horses was also hurt, and the wagon is a wreck.

The county officers elect have all filed their bonds, which have been approved, and the new officers have taken charge of their several positions. The only change in the county offices is that of sheriff. The affairs of the county are in good, honest hands, and the finances and public interests will be duly guarded.

Whitesboro will shortly jolly over the election of Cleveland and Hendricks. Hon. Joe H. Garrett of this city has been invited to deliver the principal speech of the occasion. A large crowd from this city will be in attendance.

MARSHALL.

Correspondence of the Gazette.

MARSHALL, TEX., Nov. 21.—The ball given by the Democrats last night in honor of the election of Cleveland and Hendricks was a grand affair.

Many of our citizens leave for Shreveport this evening to participate in a similar demonstration to-night. In the case of F. Mallon vs. the Texas Pacific Railway company for personal injury received while an employee of that company, the jury brought in a verdict for $5000.

Another 10 Per Cent. Reduction.

PETERSBURGH, N. H., Nov. 21.—The wages at the Pease and West Petersborough cotton mills will be reduced 10 per cent. December 1. This has been in contemplation by the owners for several weeks.

Will Not Take Part.

OTTAWA, ONT., Nov. 21.—The Dominion government has decided that the time is too short for them to take part in the New Orleans exposition. The reason that Canada was not asked earlier was that the managers thought that the invitation to Great Britain included Canada.

The Garfield Monument.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—The commission appointed by congress to select and prepare a site in this city for the Garfield statue, and to erect the pedestal, decided unanimously to place the monument in the circle at the foot of the grounds west of the front of the capitol at the intersection of First street and Maryland avenue.

The South American Commission.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., Nov. 21.—A meeting of the United States commission appointed to visit Central and South America, with members of the Chamber of Commerce and the merchants generally, took place this afternoon, with a large attendance. Papers on various branches of trade which could be encouraged with the Pacific coast were read. A second meeting will be held to-morrow. The committee leaves Monday for Mexico.

A Joint Stock Publishing Company.

COLLINSVILLE, TEX., Nov. 21.—In the last few days a number of our merchants have formed a joint stock publishing company. They have made arrangements for printing press and office material, and by next week they expect to be ready to issue a first-class newspaper. Mr. C. B. Bradley will take charge of it as editor and proprietor. Mr. Bradley has been in charge of the Tigua Times, but will discontinue that paper to come to a better field for journalism.

Judge Tucker Guardian of the Garfield Boys.

LYNCHBURG, VA., Nov. 21.—Congressman Tucker, recently elected from the Tenth district by the Democrats, has been appointed guardian for the minor children of the late President Garfield. His trust includes all the property owned by Gen. Garfield in Virginia. Mrs. Garfield, in making the request, referred to the kindly relations which existed between Mr. Tucker and her husband.

The Utah commission, after hearing the argument, decided to refer the question as to whether polygamists may lawfully vote at school elections to the United States attorney general.

The United Ireland says that it is the intention of the nationalists to impeach Earl Spencer, lord lieutenant of Ireland, for conspiracy of murder. It says that the Irish party is determined to force a public inquiry into Earl Spencer's crimes.

A BOLD ROBBERY.

The Thief Escapes from Officer Becker Sometime After Being Captured.

A bold robbery occurred at the Union depot last night, and the thief after being caught escaped from Officer Becker, who had him in charge. Joseph Williams of Kentucky was the victim. He had come in on the south-bound Missouri Pacific train, and was on his way to Weatherford. He was accompanied by his wife and several children, and as the party were getting on the west-bound Texas & Pacific train, a fakir pushed one of the children, a boy, under the car. Mr. Williams, who had his hand on his pocket-book, stooped to help the boy back on the platform, leaving his pocket unprotected. The thief watched his chance and ran his hand in Mr. Williams' pocket and secured a book containing two checks, one for $500 and another for $300, $75 in greenbacks and several dollars in silver. Mr. Williams gave the alarm and Officer Geo. Becker of the police force, who was standing near, arrested the thief before he could get away. Through some unknown means, presumably carelessness, the prisoner was not searched and after making a big talk to the officer, who walked about the platform with him for some time, he succeeded in breaking away and escaped. It is thought his escape was aided by friends who crowded around the officer and his prisoner. On getting loose from Becker he started over the platform of a Missouri Pacific coach and a railroad man made a grab for him but only succeeded in tearing his coat. He disappeared in the darkness, going in the direction of the Texas & Pacific yard.

After the escape, Special Officer Davenport found the two checks and a $1 bill under Missouri Pacific train, where the thief had evidently thrown them while talking to Officer Becker. Mr. Williams remained in the city last night, but the chances of his regaining his money are very slim.

Cotton Seed Mill.

The Fort Worth Oil Mill and Manufactory will be started to-morrow, (Monday), and will be open for the inspection of the directors and stockholders, and the public on Monday and Tuesday, from 9 a. m. until 3 p. m.

Tom Oliver Killed.

City Marshal W. M. Rea received the following telegram late last night:

GRAND PRATER, TEX., Nov. 22. To City Marshal, Fort Worth: Dr. Ray of your city, was killed here to-day by the train. Please notify the parties and press so that they may be sent to them if they desire. It is in charge of J. K. Jordan of this place. T. J. KENDALL, Acting Coroner.

Little or no information could be obtained last night about the deceased, but he is doubtless well known in Fort Worth.

Civil Service Violation.

"Say, Johnny, I shined your customer to-day."

"Which one?"

"Col. Blank."

"He's none of my customer."

"He ain't! You been shining him right along."

"No; ain't shined him since the day of the 'lection."

"What did he fire you for?"

"Don't know; I see a 'publican and I spec he wanted to make room for a dimocrat. Shine 'em up, boss, only a dime," and he swung his box over his shoulder and turned up Second street.

The Grand Jury.

The grand jury adjourned for the term yesterday after returning 19 indictments into the district court. There were 17 felonies and 2 misdemeanors, classified as follows: Murder, 1; embezzlement over $20, 1; obstructing railroad track, 1; bigamy, 1; theft over $20, 1; theft of cattle, 3; theft privately from person, 1; swindling over $20, 1; theft of horses, 2; violation of insurance law, 2.

A recapitulation of the work done by this grand jury since it organized, several months ago, shows that it has returned 109 indictments into court, 47 of which were for felonies and 62 for misdemeanors. Five of these were for murder. This is a great deal of work for one jury to do and shows that its labors have been thorough, and all the complaints brought before it have undergone a rigid examination.

BENTLEY BROS. & CO.,

RANCH, LAND AND

LIVE STOCK BROKERS,

FORT WORTH AND ABILENE, TEXAS.

We propose to give our time and personal attention to handling Grazing Lands, Live Stock and Ranch Properties in Texas and Mexico, and confidently believe we can make it to the interest of those wishing to buy or sell Located Ranches, Grazing Lands, or any number or class of Live Stock, to deal through us. We have established business relations with leading brokers in our line in the cities of London, Liverpool and Manchester, England; Edinburgh, Glasgow and Dundee, Scotland; Dublin, Ireland, and in the principal cities of the United States. We will make a specialty of handling live roughed and high grade stock on commission, and collect orders from buyers and consignments by sellers.

Overloaded.

To buy goods at prices which show an immense reduction on the figures ordinarily given, it is not necessary to go in search of a bankrupt stock or hunt up a house that has just failed and reopened for business. Merchants sometimes overload, if you allow the expression, and when they find this the case their stock goes regardless of profits. Every dealer knows the loss and inconvenience that result from "carrying over" fall and winter goods, and if sales can be made that will cover actual cost they are sold. Malone, Waller & Co. are overloaded on overcoats and clothing; they bought for blizzards and so far we have not had even northerly, and the fear that possibly they have made a mistake has induced them to put their stock down to prices that will insure sales. They guarantee goods of as nice style and finish as can be had in the city, and as perfectly fitting as if made to order by a regular merchant tailor.

Bisque.

Perhaps the handsomest selection of ornamental goods ever shown west of St. Louis can be seen at the Fort Worth China Co.'s. The department of bisque ware is full and complete, and is as pretty as a picture.

The Dancing School.

Night after night the young people are "tripping the light fantastic" at Godwin's hall and preparing for the grand balls to be given when the season is further advanced. Under the management of Mrs. Benton and Prof. Wilmett, the school is in every way a success and their pupils are making rapid progress. When the dancing exercises were over last Friday evening Mrs. Benton told the young ladies that she had a few suggestions to make to them on the subject of their health; that the reason for northerly was at hand, and explained to them the great danger of an evening out unprepared for a sudden change. One of the young ladies had visited the cash store of Malone, Waller & Co.'s and took this occasion to say that their stock of Russian circulars, dolmans and wraps surpassed anything of the kind in the city, and that they were selling them at prices that were lower than the lowest.

A Handsome Showing.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found a tabulated statement of the business of the Mutual Self-Endowment and Benevolent Association of America from September 30 to November 17, making forty-eight days, and the receipts as shown by the statement foot up $49,281.62, an increase of $7,397.99 over the receipts for fifty days preceding September 30, the date of their second last report. Besides the amount paid on policies since October 1, the association has paid on coupon certificates $18,750, and has loaned to members of the association in sums varying from $40 to $200 an aggregated total of $18,105.15. This association has had an unprecedented growth since its organization, and its increasing popularity gives evidence that its equitable provisions are appreciated by those who understand the correct principle of insurance.

"Where Did You Get It?"

"What?" "Why your new suit of clothes?" "Well, my friend, I will tell you all about it. I have been trying to get a good suit for some time, and have at last found a place where they keep the finest line of goods that I have ever seen outside of New York city. I was surprised to find such a tailor in your state, and the workmanship on his goods cannot be excelled. As a cutter Mr. J. H. Martindale stands among the leaders of fashions, and will cut any style of garment that you may desire. You make a great mistake in sending your measure away for a suit, and I will say that not one man in twenty understands taking your measure for a suit, and that is one reason you are never satisfied. If you want to dress well, why go to a first-class tailor and have your clothes made, and don't be changing. I would recommend my friends who would like to dress stylishly to try my friend Jas. H. Martindale of Fort Worth, Tex." Yours truly,

A PATRON.
